

GERMAN WARSHIP IN MEXICAN WATERS TO WATCH HUERTA

Kaiser's Government Thinks Situation Is Critical—President Wilson Rather Welcomes Action of Germany.

WILSON WARNS HUERTA NOT TO KILL DEPUTIES

President and Cabinet Will Confer Today and Decide What Step to Take If Huerta Rejects the Warning.

GERMANY TO SEND WARSHIPS TO MEXICAN WATERS

Berlin, October 13.—The foreign offices here reached the conclusion this evening that the existing situation in Mexico is such as to necessitate the presence of a German warship in Mexican waters.

Washington, October 13.—Germany's decision to dispatch a warship to Mexican waters attracted wide attention in official circles here tonight. No official statement has been received from the German government as to the purpose of the action.

No formal comment was made on the incident, but it was apparent that the German government was not displeased. The sending of a German warship is in line with the policy of the German government which has been to maintain a strong presence in the Gulf of Mexico since the revolution broke out there.

Great Britain Condemns

Latest advice to Washington are to the effect that the British government is deeply concerned over the recognition of Huerta, and it is even rumored that King George and Queen Mary have taken a strong interest in the situation with a view to measures that would support the British position.

Wilson Warns Huerta

Strong representations were made from the United States to the British government, and the latter is expected to take a strong stand against the recognition of Huerta.

Another dispatch occupies the attention of department officials in the United States. It is stated that the United States government is deeply concerned over the recognition of Huerta.

Sturgeon General Blue

of the public health marine hospital service, is in touch with the situation, and is advising that all precautions be taken.

GEN. HUERTA PROMISES NOT TO HARM DEPUTIES

ATLANTA'S WOMEN SPEAK.

The organized women of Atlanta yesterday entered what promises to be one of the most successful years in their history. Analyzed to the essentials, they have virtually underwritten the standardization of the public school system of Atlanta, asking the cooperation of every civic and political factor in that task. That is the significance of the action taken yesterday by the City Federation of Women's Clubs, in called session as a result of The Constitution's exposure of the deplorable conditions in the city schools and the life-and-death need of reform.

The story is told in detail elsewhere. A striking feature of the meeting yesterday and the program which evolved from it is that both emphatically disprove the assertion that organizations of women are not equipped to grapple with the large details of public business. There was nothing heavy, pretentious or in the nature of a school problem, considered it a method of care and laid down a method of procedure. Care and deliberation marked every step. They indicated a thorough familiarity with the situation and a full appreciation of its gravity.

Their broad interest in the education of their young people and in their uniformly receptive attitude.

The distinguishing features of the program projected by the federation are:

1. The redistricting of the city. This is highly important, as readjusting the school boundaries, and preventing such disasters as those resulting from concentration in the Highland and Inman Park schools.
2. A new Girls' English Commercial High school. The need in this direction is tragically apparent.
3. A special school tax, with a fixed maximum, the expenditure of which is to be controlled wholly by the board of education. Virtually every student of the situation approves this feature. It is only in this way that the schools may be given funds sufficient for proper maintenance. The provision that the board of education be awarded exclusive control of the system and be held exclusively responsible is thoroughly logical. To hamper the board, as at present, hold it responsible and then expect results is folly. It is imperative, too, as Mayor Woodford pointed out, that politics be scourged from the board and the schools.

4. Committees of women from each ward to investigate thoroughly the status and need of the schools, to ascertain how school funds in other cities are disbursed and to report jointly to the federation and the board of school visitors, the latter being now the only municipal board composed of women in the city.

5. An emphatic protest against overcrowding, and against even the normal allowance of sixty children to the room. It is common knowledge among experts and Superintendent Skates himself has testified that Atlanta's practice of crowding sixty children into a room is antiquated, unhygienic and detrimental to scholarship.

6. Relief for the barbarous overcrowding in the negro schools. The Constitution has often gone on record as contending that care of the negro from the educational and sanitary standpoints was a matter not for the philanthropic endeavor of the white people, but one chiefly of self-preservation, since the unfit negro is a menace to the white.

7. Securing of such funds as will insure an abundance of competent teachers. There is nothing dogmatic or self-assured in the attitude or program of these women. They simply recognize their duties and mothers and citizens, and mean, to quote Woodrow Wilson, all "forward-looking citizens" to their assistance. Their interest was instrumental in passing the $500,000 municipal bond issue, which meant so much to the health and progress of Atlanta. The Constitution knows the women individually, and their leaders, well enough to be sure that they will not slacken their efforts until they have gained their ends. For the first time they have committed themselves as a body to a tremendous municipal reform. The more is significant one.

The campaign inaugurated yesterday should prove epochal in the history of Atlanta no less than in the history of the federation. The Constitution pledges these courageous women its aid, confident that the movement is at last in the hands where it belongs. And The Constitution regards its success in enlisting the interest of these women in the modernization of the schools and the relief of straitened conditions, as among the most important achievements of its career from the municipal standpoint.

THE NEW CREMATORY.

Since its installation the new crematory has developed a series of mistakes of varying importance.

The builders are disposed to minimize them as inevitably accidental to the breaking in of the equipment, claiming that the furnaces and the major features of the plant are in excellent working order.

The Constitution is inclined to accept this statement, particularly since Chairman Ashby, of council, and the committee on itself an expert engineer, testifies that the furnaces proper come up to requirements. Chairman Ashby insists, however, and The Constitution is inclined to agree with him, that not a penny more should be paid by the city until not only the furnaces, but every adjunct of the plant is in perfect working order. He shows abundantly that unless every detail of machinery and equipment is operating as called for by the specifications the smooth working of the furnaces alone will be of little worth.

The builders are no doubt honest in their intentions, and will, we believe, live strictly up to the letter of their contract.

But the city can afford to take no chances.

It has already had several warnings. The one safe and businesslike course is to suspend all further payments until it has been demonstrated conclusively that every part of the crematory will stand the strain most severely in its history. It is not a month, but a year or longer to demonstrate conclusively that the plant is built to stand every reasonable strain for a time. It is not a month, but a year or longer to demonstrate conclusively that the plant is built to stand every reasonable strain for a time.

The matter of garbage disposal is too important to Atlanta's health and progress to intrust to chance or menace with carelessness. Now is the time to exact from the contractors a plant perfect in every respect. It is not a month, but a year or longer to demonstrate conclusively that the plant is built to stand every reasonable strain for a time.

A Lover's Song.
Joy is coming over the hills, singing on the way,
All the world is dreaming of a rosy holiday.

But life time is a toll holiday,
And joy's an idle king,
And fancy of the red rose
Wants a ruby for a ring.

Joy to the lovers is singing
In golden-sweet
"Leave the toll and rest,
And joy's a bird of spring."

But life time is a toll holiday,
And joy's a bird of spring,
And fancy of the red rose
Wants a ruby for a ring.

How John Saved the Country.
John writes that he can't come home to tell his folks about the war, but he'll tell the old lady, "because the minute he got the tariff on safe ground there was packing his grip for home the president told him:
he did."

"John, old fellow, don't leave me now. You know that I've got that currency bill on my hands, and I never needed you more."
Stand by me, John, stand by me!"

"What could I do, John? I never let a friend in distress, and so he kicked himself into the corner and said:
"Mr. President, I'm with you."

"And that's how John ain't home yet!"

"SOUNDS LIKE '61 ANYHOW!"

A Story of the Moment

By FRANK L. STANTON

The Present From Past

"The dress the women are wearing now is a disgrace," remarked the senator,
"and whoever is responsible for the present fashions should be in jail. I wish the girls would get back to the safe and sane styles of their mothers and grandmothers."

"I agree with you that present fashions are enough to set a sensitive man's teeth on edges," said the village paragon. "These dickensian dresses and slashed skirts and such freakish garments often cause me to wonder whether we are drifting, and I feel that somebody should call a halt, or write a letter to the newspapers asking what the policy is doing. But it's a question whether any noteworthy improvement would be observed if the females of the present generation returned to the fashions of their mothers and grandmothers."

"These mothers and grandmothers were excellent people in their way, but in the matter of dress they were as silly as any body else. I never saw a woman of the grand old days wearing hoops, you don't know what those were. 'Hoops' means When I was young the women wore hoops, and if two of them met on a public place,
they would bump and they would bump."

"When a woman entered a house she bowed and then she would bow again, for she couldn't turn around without upsetting her dress. I never saw a woman of the grand old days looking like a haystack in motion. We complain now that a woman can't get on without using a shawl, but if it were not for the shawl, I'd prefer to see a tight skirt to the unbecoming affair of the modern skirt."

"After the hoops came the Grecian bend, and then the bustle. I never saw a woman of the grand old days looking like a side-show freak. If somebody came down the street now wearing a corset and a bustle, I would hold a special session and instruct the world in the wearing of the bustle. I never saw a woman of the grand old days look-

A Diamond Means Strength and Beauty

A diamond's strength and beauty gives it leadership over all other gems.

The King of Jewels is practically indestructible and its beauty and purity are unassailable.

From time before history was written the diamond has adorned the kings and queens of men and been the mark of power and beauty of the world over.

The person who buys a diamond should be sure of perfection. Only perfect knowledge and trained eyes can detect faulty facings in clever settings.

Our business life has been devoted to building up a reputation that would be as sound as the most perfect diamond. We could no more afford to send a diamond from our store under a misapprehension as to its value than we could afford to scratch the facets of our rarest gems.

You can place absolute reliance on the word of The Eugene V. Haynes Company in buying diamonds.

PHI DELTS TO MEET

Members of the Fraternity Will Attend Theater Party.

Members of the Phi Delta Theta association, which number some 140 men in Atlanta, commenced collecting from all over the country, are preparing to observe the anniversary of the night of the fourth and an informal gathering later at the Hotel Ansley.

The fall meeting will be entirely informal, and no speeches or set program have been prepared. Tickets may be obtained from the Atlanta chapter, which is connected with the Western Electric company. Already a large number have made reservations and anticipate their intention of being present.

The association has extended an invitation to all members of the fraternity in the city, or who may be passing through, to be present in a body.

One of the few really national Greek organizations well represented in Georgia and the south, it has chapters at the four leading colleges in this state and also has chapters in the north and west.

Phi Delta Theta is a national organization of men, and its members are found in all parts of the United States, and also in Canada, and even in some of the foreign countries.

WILSON IS INVITED TO VISIT SAVANNAH

President Wilson was today asked to consider an invitation to attend the national grainmen congress in Savannah next April.

Senator Bacon called at the white house, accompanied by Representative Edwards, to present a delegation representing the state of Georgia, the city of Savannah and various local organizations, who would formally extend the invitation.

President Wilson promised to consider the invitation and advise the Georgia delegation when he would receive the committee.

The Georgia party next called on Mr. Bryan, secretary of state, to request him to extend an invitation to foreign governments to send delegates to the drainage congress.

THROAT Troubles ARE Dangerous

because the swollen glands and inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and impair their healthy action.

Scott's Emulsion stands alone as a nature's corrective of throat troubles; its cod liver oil is specially converted into germ-killing tissue—the glycine is curative and healing, while the combined emulsion upholds the forces to avert the weakening influence which always follow throat troubles.

Scott's Emulsion is best for three important reasons:—It restores the strength of the system; it is not clogged with oil; it is not clogged with oil; it is not clogged with oil.

WOLGAST TOO CLEVER FOR BATTLING NELSON

It was Wolgast's fight after the first round. He drew his first blood with a left to the head, which was the round that was ending, and except for the eighth round had much the better of his opponent.

In the second round four clean swings to the jaw caused Nelson to reel, and on recovering he could not land effectively. Wolgast played for Nelson's head continually, and poured a shower of blows upon his face. Nelson says for the body, but his blows lacked power.

A FAN'S COMMENT

Dear Mr. Jemison—Your caustic and forceful comment in Whiffs today on the blustery and sickening ret by Marquard, the lack of "class" by the Giants as compared with the Athletics and the outrageous and indefensible stand of the player-dopesters was fine and enjoyed it. Keep up the lick.

New York, October 12.—The world-touring season of baseball will open next Saturday and continue around to the training days of the big league season at home next spring. Thus will the insatiable appetite of the game's enthusiasts be relieved in part during the usually lifeless winter and a considerable number of big league players have the advantage of practically an all year's round practice.

Philadelphia, Snodgrass and third base, respectively. Shortgrass and Torgue of New York and Magee, of St. Louis, are in the outfield.

Ten American league players, officially announced, are as follows:

Pitchers: Bens and Scott and Infielders: Weaver of Chicago; Catchers: Henry and Infielders: Bledsoe, St. Louis; Shortgrass, Washington; Pitcher: Leverenz of St. Louis; Infielder: Peckinpaugh, of New York; and Outfielders: Crawford, of Detroit, and Lewis, of Boston.

Philadelphia will leave New York for St. Louis, and will leave St. Louis for Philadelphia, on Monday.

The players will leave New York on Monday and the first game of the tour will be played on Saturday at Cincinnati, according to an amendment of the original program. The second game will be played at Chicago next Sunday. The national baseball commission, which voted yesterday a contribution of $1,000 to advertise the tour, believes that the trip will assist the players when baseball becomes a really international game.

You Want a Live Town

Disease and poverty are twin-brothers to unsanitary living conditions. Sickness cripples the working and earning capacity. Then follows poverty and distress.

Is your town clean and healthy? Is it disease-proof so far as correct sanitation can make it so?

In the water supply free from contamination?

Our specialty is SANITARY ENGINEERING.

We want to improve your town and we can show you that it will pay you well.

A town that is unsanitary, unhealthful, inconvenient and unattractive will never draw new population.

It won't hold its present population. The young fellow growing up, the enlightened men and women are not going to stay where the conditions are bad and out-of-date.

Does your town want to grow? If so, write us.

GENERAL EVANS OFF

ON INSPECTION TOUR

Commander of Second Brigade

Will Visit All Government

Posts in South.

General R. K. Evans, commander of the second brigade of the first division of the United States regular army, with headquarters in this city, left here Tuesday morning to inspect all points in the south where there are United States troops. General Evans will complete his annual inspection of these posts about November 15.

Port Logan H. Root, located a short distance from Little Rock, Ark., is the first stop on General Evans' itinerary. The fort is situated on Third Lake, one of the many military reservations in the south.

From Port Logan H. Root, General Evans will proceed to Fort Sill, Okla., where the army school for heavy artillery is located. He will then proceed to the operations of the great field guns which are being worked out at that fort. The guns are the most up-to-date in the world and are for the most part composed of 3-inch caliber guns.

It is at Fort Sill that the young gunners are taught and drilled. The target on the opposite side of the lake will be several miles away. The gunnery is the latest method employed by the army in the south and is very difficult to understand.

After inspecting the various posts General Evans will return to Little Rock, where he will remain for several days to gain a better acquaintance with the city and its surroundings. He will then visit a number of the military posts in the south, where he expects to do considerable hunting and shooting.

General Evans' inspection tour is the most important one in the south for the past many years.
